Steam communication between Osaka and Corea has been established by the Sumitomo Company. and vessels will be despatched twice a month. It is said that the Corean ambassador will leave Japan by the middle of September, and that prior has brought him to Japan. 🗝 For some time past there have been rumours that the government intended disposing of the railway between Shinbasi and Yokohama. The Choya Shimbun now announces as an established fact that the transfer of the line to some kwazeku will shortly take place—on what conditions is not mentioned. The storm which visited Yokohama and other parts of Japan on the night of the 25th August is reported to have done considerable damage to pridges, roads, and rice fields in some of the North China Insurance-Tls. 1,075 per share. southern districts. But the rain appears to have done more good than harm, for it effectually broke up the drought which has been threatenthe crops throughout Japan are now reported to be well advanced, and the people are looking forward to a bountiful harvest, and the prospect of a reduction in the cost of their staple food. We trust their hopes may be realised in this respect, but are very much inclined to think that while paper money is so plentiful and cheap, the plorable condition of the finances. A subscription list in aid of the sufferers by Shanghai Steam Navigation Company-Tls. 3 inundations in Canton was lately opened by a committee of Chinese merchants, who state in the prospectus,-"It is believed that European and American residents here may be glad to take !. part in this bonevolence, and so express their with which many of them have kindly associations." The result has been donations amounting in all to 3650.50, which sum has been forwarded to the Chinese hospital in Hongkong for | China Sugar Refining Company (Debentures)distribution in Cauton. We regret the committee have not made the circumstances of their appeal public. The majority of charitable people Chinese Imperial Lean of 1877-(Nominal). never heard of the movement in aid of the Canton sufferers by flood, the consequence being that, from want of publicity which any newspaper would have gratuitously given in the cause of charity, the sum subscribed is very much less than it would otherwise have been.

... A native contemporary says that the sum of 305,000 silver you is being coined at the Osaka mint. This trifle will not go far towards relieving the anxiety respecting the financial affairs of the nation. It will be but a small speck in the sea of paper money which is fleeding this country, and which is the chief cause of the distress among the people. There has been no famine. In Japan, and yet we hear of the poorer classes eating the offsi which has heretofore been thrown to the pigs, because it takes thirteen yen to purchase a koku of rice, which, two years ago, could be obtained for five yen. The value of paper money has fallen, and the corresponding rise in the value of labour, has not met with demand for it, and now the labouring classes are almost unable to purchase the few necessaries with which to sustain life. -The Tokio-Maru will have among her passengers for Shanghai to morrow Mr. James Johnstone Keswick, head of the firm of Jardine, Matheson & Co. here, and for some time past a resident of Yokohama. Mr. Keswick will not return to Japan, at least for some years, and his departure calls for a few words of cordial farewell. Mr. Keswick succeeded Mr. Edward Whittall, when the latter gentleman retired from the firm of which he had been the Yokohams representative for several years, and at once gained the popularity which our extended knowledge of him has served to strengthen. It may be arged that valodictory addresses are too often conched in language of undue compliment, but in this instance it becomes a pleasurable act of duty to record the unvarying geniality, courtess, and gentleness which, combined with business acquirements and knowledge of the world, are the qualities that have secured for Mr. Keswick a larger circle of real friends among foreigners and Japanese than probably any previous resident ever enjoyed. It seemed in the natural order of things that Mr. Keswick should take the lead in all public amusements and manly sports, and that he should, in consequence, scon become a prominent figure in the community. For every undertaking of a public or semi-public character. Mr. Keswick, as a matter of course. Vet Thermometer 70.0 78 5 89.0)

was appealed to; and it speaks highly for the kindliness of his nature that in every capacity In which he has acted in these matters his name has been a guarantee for honour and fairplay. His departure will be very much regretted; and all who have resided for any length of time in Yokohama know how to appreciate the loss the settlement will sustain. His absence will be deeply felt as time wears on. Scarcely have our French friends and neighbours bul time to settle down after the excitement incident to the celebration of the new naional festival, before there is a fresh commotion n their camp, and again we hear the cry aux drmes, citoyens. This time it is the recent government measures against the religious scoieties that are to be defended, and as imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, so it is proposed to get up an expulsion of priests from Japan, even if it be only on a very small scale. *Yesterday morning's Courrier du Japan contains a letter from the Abbé Marin to the French Consul at Yokohama, in which the Abbé, who has heard that he, by the Courrier and even by public opinion, has been accused of having, in a sermon preached by him in the Catholic church on the 25th instant, entered upon politics and grossly insulted the Franch Government, writes to inform the Consul, and through him those who may have been misled by a false interprotation of his words, that the accusation is entirely unfounded. He admits having in his sermon treated of the recent measures against the religious orders, but he maintains that he has done so in general terms, animadverting on the Voltaireian spirit of the times, and on the persecutions to which the true followers of Christ Always will be exposed. The Courrier accomcapies this letter with a leading article, in which It refuses to accept the Abbe's explanations, and declares that nothing loss will satisfy the community than a categorical recautation and apology, and it has invited signatures to a petition, now lying at its office, of which the following is Chinese and English type correspond in the size a translation :- "Yokohama, the 21st August, of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of citizens, resident in Yokohama and Tokio, have attained, and dispensing with those vast margins the bonour to represent to you that the language used by the Abbe Marin in the sermon preached to rized Chinese publications. by him last Sunday in the Catholic church, has everywhere provoked reproof. IMPERIAL QUARTO. IN GLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Dailu Press Office, Hongkong.

For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have to late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Boththe Court and Punti pronunciations are given. the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography

To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Government of the Republic, infamous calumnies. Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst the protection granted to missionaries; he has this work contains more than 50,000 English committed a violation of the law that punishes words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characany Frenchman who is guilty of inciting to ters. Again, despite all the grammars and hatred and contempt against the Government, other elementary works as yet published, the and his guilt is aggravated by the fact that his student of this difficult language absolutely reactusations are of a character in the eyes of the foreigners among whom we live, to throw discredit and disrepute on France and the men to have one general meaning. For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect vernment, we ask you respectfully. Mr. Consul, the work will be found indispensable to all THE Undersigned having been appointed Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion- in London, or at the principal Ports of India,
